SELECTION OF WINNER AND NOTIFICATION

Up to five (5) winners will be selected from all qualified applications by a panel of the Sponsors' scientists, who will choose the grant application that best makes use of the OhmX Analyzer™ demonstrating the power of Nabsys high-definition genome mapping human science-related research. Finalists will be chosen in February 2024 and will have a check-in meeting with Nabsys to confirm participation under the terms. The decision of this panel will be final and binding. The selected winner will be attempted to be notified by email within approximately five (5) business days after selection. If the selected winner has not responded to email inquiries within three (3) days, the Sponsors will attempt to contact the winner by telephone. If the winner cannot be reached by telephone within forty-eight (48) hours of first telephone attempt to notify such winner, the prize may be forfeited, and an alternate winner may be selected, based on the criteria set forth above, at the Sponsors' discretion. The odds of winning depend on the number of eligible entries received.
